Tasting notes

Gold color with green highlights. A bouquet of almonds, dried fruits, ferns and white flowers. Honey and cinnamon are the usual notes. Either one will taste it very young, on the fruit, or slightly more mature, for its richness and mellowness.

Cellaring

To be drunk young but can age 7-8 years.

Matching wine with food

Its freshness and floral register work wonders on poultry and veal in cream sauce, tagines of fish and grilled sea fish. Older and therefore richer, it will wrap and coax cheeses like cîteaux, comté and some goat cheeses.

Serving temperature

It will be served for tasting between 11 and 12°C and with meals, at a temperature of 12-14°C.
